WHEELING, JUNE 23, 1891.

West Virginia at the World's Fair.

When the big show opens West Virginia wants to be on hand with an impressive outfit. Her buildings will show her hard woods to the admiration of the world. Within there will be much to interest the visitor.

It may be taken for granted that there will be some one on the spot who knows the State and is capable of presenting its advantages attractively. Such a man is not easy to secure, for men of this grade are not around looking for jobs. We have the right kind of men and one of them will have to be drafted into the service and well compensated.

There must be an abundance of literature, properly prepared, covering the whole field, in general and in sufficient detail to satisfy such inquiries as will naturally be made touching our resources. The State will never have an opportunity to do cheaper advertising. The people will be there—it will only remain to place in their hands what we wish them to take away with them.

A very attractive and valuable feature of the State building furnishing would be photographs of good scale, illustrating scenery, timber, coal veins, railroads, river improvements and the like. A wide field could be covered in this way at comparatively small cost. Whatever West Virginia can do she must do for the success of the enterprise and the promotion of her own interests.

Republican Presidential Nomination. Colonel Conger, of Ohio, took it into his head that some exigency of the hour required him to get together a lot of Maine men and whoop things up for the Maine map. There was a meeting at Indianapolis and the newspapers were permitted to discover that everything was lovely and the scheme was going well.

It seems that Mr. Blaine has some views of his own about this thing, and he has expressed them to Colonel Conger and the rest of the coterie. He wants no more meetings of that kind, and he will have no made-to-order letters going out in his interest. Mr. Blaine is wise. His cause needs no working up by politicians with edged tools to grind.

The masses of the Republican party want Blaine and Blaine knows it. For the present this is a good way for him to leave the matter. At another time he may decline or let his party have its way. Circumstances will have to change radically or he will be nominated.

If there be a radical change the party will determine what to do in the light of events as they present themselves. This will relieve Col. Conger and the rest of the manipulators of a vast deal of labor, anxiety and responsibility.

Electric Light Ordinance.

The electrical company cannot be blamed for doing what it can, in any and all fair ways, to defeat the electric light ordinance. The company is in the electric lighting business and would like to add the city to its customers.

The interest of the people is different from the company's interest. This is why a large body of the people want the ordinance to pass. Those of this way of thinking must bear in mind that the ordinance will not pass itself. A majority of three-fifths is required.

Every voter who wants the electric light should not only be sure to get in his own vote, but try to induce the polling of as many more as possible.

Building Regulations.

Cities of much less size than Wheeling would be amazed if it were proposed that their buildings should be erected without any public oversight. That each builder shall be a law unto himself, without regard to the public safety, is a proposition too absurd to be discussed. It is bad policy to permit any body to erect just what he pleases under conditions suitable to himself and prejudicial to the general welfare. There should be reasonable building laws impartially enforced.

If Fleming had kept out of the saloon from which he was ejected he would have kept out of the row which ended in his death. There does not seem to have been sufficient provocation for the beating he received, although a man of perfectly sound condition would probably not have died from such a drubbing.

LARRY NEAL wants it distinctly understood by as many Buckeye Democrats as he can reach that Campbell can not be elected if nominated. If Neal understands the situation he is the Democrat who can be elected governor of Ohio. If Neal gets the nomination this anti-convention talk will help him amazingly with the Campbell-men, who are already pleased beyond expression with his style of tooting his own horn.

The drowning of three boys near Washington, Pa., is made all the more sad by the heroic sacrifice of two of the lads. If the first little fellow had permitted himself to be saved no lives would have been lost. Older persons than he have lost all self-control under similar circumstances, and clasped in a death struggle the arms that would have saved them.

Welsh tin plate makers have rushed their product into this country to get ahead of the duty which goes on July 1, and now 25,000 of their employees must drop their work and look on closed establishments. We are going to have an American tin plate industry, and it will not depend for its life on the legislation of any other country.

A REPORT is current that General Adam E. King, consul-general at Paris, is in trouble with the French authorities because he took into the country with him certain silver plate on which he should have paid duty. If true, General King's official head will go off, but the truth of the story remains to be established.

If the world of graduates could get a chance twenty years hence to revise those essays, how the "fine writing" would suffer. Sometimes some of us feel a little foolish when we read what we wrote day before yesterday. It is a hard thing to approach the awful infirmity calmly and with complete sanity.

GOVERNOR CAMPBELL'S campaign for renomination has all the earmarks of a case of desperation. The Governor is hard pressed. Neal is making it warm for him on one side, and there is McKinley on the other. A Democratic politician in Ohio this year is uneasy under the head that wears a crown.

REV. M. STODDARD, who shot off an anti-Masonic tirade in Boston yesterday, has not learned the lesson of being silent where he is ignorant. About once in so often somebody who doesn't know what he is talking about lights into Masonry, and Masonry goes on living.

A GREAT German printing ink concern, which has done a large business in this country, is about to build a large establishment in Newark, N. J., to occupy a block of ground. The McKinley tariff did it. The German manufacturers had to fish or cut bait.

HEREAFTER women may vote at school elections in Illinois. This is as it should be. The mothers of the land should have a voice in the management of the schools. We look to them principally for the rearing of the children from the cradle to their majority.

THE Supreme Court of Indiana decides that gas cannot be pumped out of that State. The question arose on the constitutionality of an act of the Legislature making such transportation unlawful. Indiana has none of the good thing to spare.

If the Cossack cavalrymen catch those picturesque brigands of the trans-Caucasus, there will not be so many brigands in that region until a new crop grows up. The Cossack is something of a blood-letter himself.

THE "trust" who got away from the penitentiary last night left behind the mild suggestion that it doesn't do to trust gentlemen of his cloth too far. A man with legs will get away if he can, and small blame to him.

MR. FARNELL'S representatives in this country are not carrying the American public before them. The reported facts that got here before they did are a good deal in the way. This it is to have a discredited leader.

UNLESS some compromise can be reached with Miss Cousins the World's Fair may be a dead failure. Her voice is for salary or destruction.

If the writing telegraph is to come into general use there will have to be a mighty deal of improvement in chirography.

Don't fool yourself—there are some politicians among the Alliance men. They are playing a very pretty game.

THE Earl of Clonmel is dead. If he passed away without a scandal in his family he was a lucky nobleman.

MCKINLEY'S head is as cool as it is level. What is the use of a man fretting himself over a sure thing?

THIS time the mad steer has fun in Philadelphia. Has it come to this—a mere cow pasture?

CULLOM is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. Who is Cullom?

THE President has taken to drink. His beverage is the invigorating sea air.

THE Japanese seem to be thirsting for Russian blood.

Governor Fleming's Appointments.

THE assertion that the Wayne News and Wetzel Democrat are criticizing the governor because he made an appointment from a doubtful county is unfounded. These papers have not criticized him for this, but they have complained that Governor Fleming and Governor everybody else go to Republican and doubtful counties for all their appointees, taking as many as three from a single county. These counties are always securing positions, both elective and appointive, while such strong Democratic counties as Wayne, Logan and Wetzel get nothing. Weak for a fair show in this discussion, even if we do not get it in the distribution of offices.

CURE for croup.—Use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil according to directions. It is the best remedy for all sudden attacks of colds, pain and inflammation, and injuries.

HORIZONTAL MORRISON

Says the Democrats Will Not Carry a State West of the Mississippi.

Chicago Tribune.

"No matter what either party does about silver the Democrats will not carry a State west of the Mississippi river at the next national election." This from Col. William R. Morrison, of Illinois, who has been a Democrat ever since he was old enough to think of politics, and whose friends are stirring up a rather prosperous Presidential boom for him. He has just returned from a trip to the Pacific coast with the Inter-State Commerce Commission, of which he is acting chairman. He is stopping at the Palmer House. Heretofore he has declined to talk politics, claiming that his duties on the commission kept him too busy to leave him no time to devote to any other subject, but yesterday he talked freely about the probabilities in 1892.

"I do not agree with Henry Watterson when he says that the Republican party will carry only four States during the next campaign," continued Col. Morrison. "Mr. Watterson has done a great deal for the Democratic party and is a great man, but he is over-optimistic. There is altogether too much vitality in the Republican party to submit to any such defeat. When I say that the Democrats will not carry a State west of the Mississippi, no matter what either party has to say in its platform on the silver question, I mean that California, Washington, Colorado, Nebraska, Idaho, the two Dakotas, Kansas, and other States I might name will be carried by the Republicans."

Neither does Col. Morrison agree with the "Star-Eyed Goddess" of Kentucky that the Democratic party can get along without New York and be successful.

"New York will dictate at the next convention the Republican as well as the Democratic nomination," said the Colonel, "and a nomination will not be made unless the Empire State favors it. 'No' in my opinion it has not been settled who will head the Democratic ticket. That point will have to be settled in convention."

JOURNALISTIC JABS.

"Do you think Harrison will be renominated?" "Can't say—give us something easy—ask if he will be re-elected."—Life.

With her numerous defaulters Philadelphia can hardly maintain her title of "The City of Brotherly Love," unless love of money is meant.—Indianapolis News.

The sharper who has been selling painted sparrows for a dollar apiece as Australian warblers would be none too good to put gilt wings on the tariff and pass it off as the angel of reciprocity.—Philadelphia Record (Dem.).

One of the sons of the Prince of Wales is nicknamed "Collars and Cuffs." The old gentleman himself will hereafter probably be known to the irreverent as "Chips."—New York Press.

If Americans must gamble when they go abroad they should fight shy of royal games and leave their cash, as usual, at Monte Carlo. The best way to win money on gambling, however, is not to gamble.—Baltimore American.

It sounds queer to hear of great temperance mass-meetings in Germany, attended by vast crowds of people, who cheer the utterances of the speakers as they denounce King Alcohol. It is well to understand, however, that when they talk about intoxicating liquors in Germany they don't mean beer.—Boston Herald.

HOUSE AND HOME.

Just a Score of Plain Suggestions for Young Wives.

Silk handkerchiefs should be quite dry before ironing.

To have the crust of a potato brown set the pot on a few coals before the fire and turn it frequently.

If indelible ink gets spilled on a garment, saturate the spot with iodine and then wash out with ammonia.

A little sugar added to beets, corn, squash, peas, etc., during or after cooking, will improve them, particularly if poor.

When meat is broiling it will cook more quickly if a frying-pan is turned over it. Frying may be hastened in the same way.

A small box filled with lime and placed on a shelf in a pantry or closet will absorb dampness and keep the air dry and sweet.

Spinach juice colors white sauce prettily, and when poured over hard-boiled eggs, sliced and laid evenly on the plate, is a tempting dish.

No kitchen should be without scales to test the integrity of things purchased by weight, and to measure the quantities of various recipes.

A pound of sulphur burnt in a tightly closed room will destroy every living thing in it, from moths and bed-bugs to possible disease germs.

A little kerosene oil rubbed briskly over the spots on dark clothing will brighten the garments and remove the stains almost like magic.

If sheets and table-cloths are wrung by putting the salvage through the wringer the edges will not curl up and they will iron much easier.

In making custard, pumpkin or lemon pies, it is better to partly bake the crust before adding the mixture, so that it may not be absorbed by the paste.

A new and delicious dainty is prepared by taking the stone either from dates or prunes and substituting a bit of the kernel of an English walnut.

Lemon juice will whiten frosting, cranberry or strawberry juice will color it pink, and the grated rind of an orange strained through a cloth will color it yellow.

If a little corn starch is put in the salt for the table it will keep it from lumping, and the pretty little shakers will not have so hard a scolding in damp weather.

If doughnuts are cut out an hour before they are fried, to allow a little time for raising, they will be much lighter. Try cutting at night and frying in the morning.

Put camphor gum with your new silverware and it will never tarnish as long as the gum is there. Never wash silver in soap-suds, as that gives it a white appearance.

All sorts of vessels and utensils may be purified from long-retained smells of any kind by rinsing them out well with charcoal powdered after they have been scoured with sand soap.

It is just as necessary to keep salt from absorbing bad odors as cream. A sack of the best salt standing where there is a smell of fish or any objectionable odor will absorb the flavor.

Wheeling Building Operations.

In last week's Virginia Manufacturer there was a short statement of the extensive building and development operations going on in West Virginia. A fairly good showing was made in that issue, and the Wheeling Intelligencer began an investigation of the building operations in Wheeling alone, which presents a startling array of figures. That paper found that there are now in course of erection in Wheeling alone more than a million dollars worth of new buildings and remodeling of old structures, not including two bridges and other works of improvement, that cannot be classed as houses. It found that many of the buildings are of a most substantial character, including half a dozen granite blocks and several brownstone residences. There are three new bank buildings in course of erection and twenty-three new business blocks, no one of which will cost less than $50,000. These figures tend to show the progress of West Virginia, and to display the solid character of the growth of her cities. There are several other cities in the State that are enjoying prosperity as substantial as that of the metropolis of the State, but not so extensive. West Virginia surely has a great future before her, and that future does not depend entirely upon the undeveloped resources of the interior by any means. The cities and towns are all prosperous, and have the ground work for future greatness.

SHE HAD ALL THE BEST OF IT.

How a Woman Succeeded in Nonplusing a Red-Nosed Conductor.

New York Recorder.

He was a red-nosed and eke a cynical conductor, and all the way some dozen or more blocks he spoke of the intense delight that women take in humiliating and troubling street-car conductors in general, himself in particular. He dwelt on woman's proneness to pass bad coins and otherwise defraud honest conductors.

It was while he was talking that a pleasant-faced lady signaled the car and got in. She handed the conductor a one dollar bill from which to take her fare and he came to the rear, where the reporter was, to make the change.

"Woman all over," he growled. "Has the right change, but wants to make trouble."

Then he carefully and thoughtfully made up the lady's change in pennies and five-cent pieces. He put them in her hand and came back to the rear.

"Wait till you see her kick," he said, gleefully.

"But she didn't kick." She calmly counted over the change and then beckoned to the conductor.

"Conductor!" she said simply. "You have not given me the right change. I have ten cents more here than I should have. Here it is, and she handed it to him, not in pennies, as she might have done, but in the shape of two five-cent pieces.

The conductor returned to his place, his red nose positively pale.

"I give you my solemn word, young fellow," he said, "I've been a long time in this business and I never saw no woman do that sort of thing before. I wouldn't have tho't such a thing could happen."

And he said no more of woman's dishonesty, for it was clear that he was pained and in a sense humiliated.

Her Papa Was a Dog.

Ethel—Is papa a dog, mamma?
 Mamma—No, dear, what do you mean by asking such a question?

Ethel—I heard Mr. Danieley say that the difference between a gentleman and a dog was that the gentleman wears trousers and the dog pants. Pa wears pants, don't he?

PINCHES THE OTHER FOOT.

Does Not Like the Method of Selection of Hamilton County Delegates.

COLUMBUS, June 22.—Governor Campbell has "put his foot into it" with the interview which he furnished to the press last night. In the first place he was mistaken as to the fact, being misled by a private telegram. He claimed that the Hamilton county primaries were illegal because a change was made in the number of delegates without due notice to the Democracy of the county. He still claims, however, in conversation to-night, that the primaries were illegal because the Democracy chose eighty-two instead of fifty-nine delegates. The governor seems to forget his own hobby of home rule.

For some years it was a question in the State Central Committee as to whether the manner of choosing delegates in the counties and it finally became the unwritten law of politics that the counties should select delegates in their own way and that each delegate should cast as many votes as the State committee apportioned to the county. At the Democratic State Convention of two years ago considerable trouble arose out of this system and Governor Campbell got all the benefit. Several counties went to the convention mass delegations; that is, authorized any Democrats from the counties who might be present at the convention to cast the vote allotted. Naturally there was a scramble to capture these delegations and the Campbell and Neal factions ran excursions from the counties to the convention. At that time John R. McLean was backing Campbell and his money succeeded in bringing heavier Campbell representation from the mass delegation counties than Neal's funds could buy and Campbell captured the delegations. The situation in Hamilton county is the same as it was in the counties referred to. The selection of delegates in accordance with the programme laid down by the county central committee is unquestionably legal. No matter how many delegates were chosen the convention may unseat the delegates elected Saturday night, but such action will be clearly in opposition to the precedent established in the interest of Governor Campbell himself.

CAMPBELL CLAIMS

More than Two-thirds of the Delegates Will Be for Him.

COLUMBUS, O., June 22.—Upon the apportionment based on the vote of last year, there will be nearly 700 delegates in the Democratic convention. Probably half of the counties have selected delegates. Basing an estimate upon reliable information from the counties where the delegates have not been chosen, and making an equal division where there is any cause for a doubt, the Governor claims 500 delegates. The following counties are known to be solid for him:

Ashland 6, Ashtabula 3, Athens 4, Brown 8, Butler 13 (instructed), Carroll 3, Clewton 4, Clinton 4, Columbiana 8, Coshocton 9, Erie 8, Fairfield 9, Galia 3, Geauga 1, Green 5, Hancock 9, Hardin 7, Henry 7, Hocking 4, Holmes 7, Jackson 5, Jefferson 5, Lake 2, Lawrence 4, Licking 11, Logan 4, Madison 4, Mahoning 9, Marion 8, Medina 4, Meigs 4, Mercer 8, Miami 8, Monroe 7, Montgomery 25, Muskingum 11, Ottawa 6, Paulding 6, Perry 7, Pickaway 7, Putnam 7, Richland 9, Scioto 4, Shelby 6, Tuscarawas 10, Union 4, Vinton 3, Warren 4, Wayne 10, Williams 6, Wood 8.

The estimated ratio in the other counties is as follows: Allen 9, Campbell 5; Auglaize 7, Campbell 3; Belmont 11, Campbell 6; Champaign 5, Campbell 2; Clark 9, Campbell 4; Crawford 9, Campbell 7; Cuyahoga 4; Darke 5; Darke 10, Campbell 5; Deane 7, Campbell 4; Delaware 5; in doubt; Fayette 4; Franklin 25, Campbell 24; Fulton 4, Campbell 2; Guernsey 4, Campbell 2; Hamilton, in doubt; Haron 6, Campbell 3; Knox 6, Campbell 3; Morgan 4, Campbell 2; Morrow 4, Campbell 2; Noble 4, Campbell 2; Pike 4, Campbell 2; Portage 2; Sandusky 7, Preble 5, Campbell 2; Seneca 10, Campbell 6; Stark 20, Campbell 10; Summit 6, Campbell 4; Trumbull 4, Campbell 2; Van Wert 7, Campbell 3; Wyandot 6, Campbell 4. Hamilton county is not included in the estimate.

CULLOM A CANDIDATE

For the Presidency and Makes No Bones of It.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Senator Cullom, of Illinois, is a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1892, and he makes no secret of the fact. "If the nomination is tendered me, you can bet I won't throw the honor over my shoulder," were the words he used to a reporter this morning.

"And if it is going to be a free for all fight," he added, "and the Illinois delegation is for me, why then I'll be in the field."

"Blaine can have the nomination if he wants it," continued the Senator, "but I doubt if he will encourage any movement to put him in the field. Harrison stands the best chance in my opinion, and will doubtless be named. The tariff will be the issue, and the silver and other minor questions will be the side issues."

"McKinley will be elected Governor of Ohio for three reasons: First—He is personally a very popular man, having the magnetic attractiveness of Blaine; second, Campbell, who will doubtless be his opponent, has succeeded in dividing his party, and third, the Republican party in Ohio was never so strong as now."

Blaine Don't Need Booming.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Gen. Rus sell A. Alger, accompanied by his family, arrived here yesterday from Detroit by way of the principal cities of the Northwest. In an interview he stated that his trip had no political significance, but was one of business and recreation. He said: "The rumors that I am booming Blaine are without foundation. In my judgment Blaine can have the nomination if he wants it, and does not need any assistance in the matter."

Yale Commencement.

NEW HAVEN, CT., June 22.—The commencement exercises at Yale opened in earnest to-day, and train after train brought friends of the graduates and alumni, who are to attend the various class reunions, to the city.
